

Conspiracy of Central Banking

Understanding the Corrupt and Evil World of Central Banking and its Connection to the Encroaching and Enveloping New World Order

Gregory Richford, 2nd Edition, November 2013

Introduction

The Scripture tells us the following about money:

- “But they that will be rich fall into temptation and a snare, and into many foolish and harmful lusts, which drown men in destruction and perdition. For the love of money is the root of all evil: which while some coveted after, they have erred from the faith, and pierced themselves through with many sorrows.” -1st Timothy 6:9–10; KJV

It isn't money in itself that is evil, it is the love of money that is the root of evil. In fact, it says all evil. That 'all' is there for a reason. The love of money described here is an example of love that is perverted, a love preoccupied with itself; a love that is consumed with monetary wealth and affluence harnessed by greed and avarice. A twisted love deluded in the vanity of selfish autonomy. Money is the beginning root of all evil because money is the world's medium of economic transaction, influence and control. Money buys what the world offers, whether that be the acquisition of luxuries, sexual gratification, or political power with the means of control. Many Christians fully understand how this truth applies to their personal lives, but have not thought as deeply about how this telling reality speaks to those unsaved, unscrupulous and ambitious men at a societal level, who have used wealth and money as the means of insidious and tyrannical control.

The real history of the world is ultimately about secrets, about the hidden causes of history, about key actions and motives concealed in the shadows that prove to be the real drivers of visible events. Christian researcher Dr. Stanley Monteith says in his book Brotherhood of Darkness (2000):

- “An understanding of the forces that have shaped the events of the twentieth century is predicated not on facts to be learned, but rather on secrets to be discovered.” –Author Unknown

The actual history of civilization is more related to what has been suppressed by those in power, by what lies obscured beneath the tide of interpreted events, than by establishment approved 'facts.' We must look elsewhere and deeper to discover or uncover the real causes of things.

Despite what we think and we have been told in conventional education, all is simply not as it appears. Real Reality as described by noted 19th century French author Honoré de Balzac (1799-1850):

- “There are people that remain behind the scenes of the world stage, and that is why there are two types of history: first the official, forged ad usum Delphini, and second the secret one, in which real causes of events are written down; a disgraceful history.”

This lesson concerns the power of this observation with respect to modern era banking. The history of banks, of banking, of central banking, of fiat currency, of monetary issuance and credit is of two distinct kinds: one official, and the other horribly corrupt and utterly disgraceful. This lesson seeks to uncover the truth about money lenders and their practices, also known as the Money Power or the Money Trust.

This lesson takes focus at the conspiracy of central banking. A 'conspiracy' is defined legally as a secret meeting or banding together of some for an illegal purpose. The entire debt-based monetary system that arose in Western civilization, beginning formally in 1609 (the first rudiments of a Central Bank in Amsterdam, Europe), is really one gigantic conspiracy that ultimately has specific aims to bring about an incrementally realized and terrifying “New World Order.”

1. The Central Governing Issue: Who has Absolute Control over the Money and Credit of a Nation, the Government Itself or Privately Owned Institutions?

- “Let me issue and control a nation's money and I care not who makes its laws.” –Mayer Amschel Bauer Rothschild (1744-1812); quote spoken in 1790
 - Mayer Rothschild, who formally ignited the infamous Rothschild banking dynasty, understood from the beginning that monopolistic control of money and credit ultimately provided supreme control and power even over political legislation. The private control of money, credit and issuance serves as the hidden and master power of economic manipulation over people and entire nations.

Just how powerful were the Rothschilds in the industrial era with respect to monetary control of national economies? Consider this from Jewish philosopher Heinrich Heine, himself a Banker’s son (d. 1856):

- “Money is the god of our time, and Rothschild is his prophet.”

As the modern period of history unfolded in the 17th and 18th centuries, the Rothschild’s banking dynasty became so powerful and dominant that even Benjamin Disraeli, who would become Prime Minister of Great Britain in 1868 (and also an intimate Rothschild confidante), had the following to say about one the Rothschild’s (Nathan) running the economic show in England:

- “He was lord and master of the money market of the world, and of course virtually lord and master of everything else.”

• More to the point about Nathan Rothschild and his translation of his Dad’s truism:

- “I care not what puppet is placed upon the throne of England to rule the Empire on which the sun never sets. The man who controls Britain’s money supply controls the British Empire and I control the British money supply.” –Nathan Mayer Rothschild in 1815

Nathan Rothschild used his genius of stock exchange manipulation and private loans to shrewdly and quickly reach the pinnacle of vast economic wealth and power in England. Once in position of monetary control, he eventually worked his way into the sphere of the privately owned Bank of England. Once there, the Rothschild’s dominance in the banking realm has never to this day been diminished.

• “I am afraid the ordinary citizen will not like to be told that the banks can, and do, create money.... And they who control the credit of the nation direct the policies of government and hold in the hollow of their hands the destiny of the people.” –Reginald McKenna, former British Chancellor of the Exchequer (1915-1916), England, in a speech January 24, 1924

- One of the awakening moments in history where the truth comes out. Banks create money out of nothing, as we will learn. And the result of this sleight of hand trickery is the hidden control of the policies of a nation, followed by the manipulated destiny of the people themselves.

• The Rothschild banking power in England in 1863 understood clearly that the con game would be a lot easier to maintain if the profits were shared with those in positions of political influence, while at the same time concealing the fraudulent operation from the dim-witted public:

- “The few who understand the system [interest bearing currency] will either be so interested from its profits or so dependent on its favors, that there will be no opposition from that class, while on the other hand, the great body of people, mentally incapable of comprehending the tremendous advantages that [monopolistic] capital derives from the system, will bear its burdens without complaint, and perhaps without even suspecting the system is inimical to their interests."

—from John Daniel, Scarlet and the Beast, Volume 2, 1995, p. 72

- The Rothschild banking cartel certainly understood corrupt human nature: that his privately controlled policy of a public monetary system would certainly benefit those who decided to climb onto the bandwagon. Those who are receiving the profits, however unscrupulously, very seldom voice opposition to its temporal blessings. And so commences the structure of pyramid control.

2. What the United States Constitution Says

• We need to start with U.S. Constitution and familiarize ourselves with what it says about money and credit. Article I, Section 8 reveals the following:

- "The Congress shall have Power ... to borrow Money on the credit of the United States ... to coin Money, regulate the Value thereof, and of foreign Coin."
- The key point to be made is that these powers were vested directly to Congress itself—and not to be dispatched or offloaded to a privately owned company, who then loans money on interest to the United States (which is exactly what the Federal Reserve does as we will see shortly).

• "All the perplexities, confusion and distresses in America arise not from defects in the Constitution or confederation, nor from want of honor or virtue, as much from downright ignorance of the nature of coin, credit, and circulation." —President John Adams; letter to Thomas Jefferson

- Despite what official history reads regarding the reputed wonderful blessings of a privately owned Federal Reserve Bank, the reality is that defects in monetary policy never originated with the Constitution, but with natural ignorance about the nature of money and invariably corrupt human nature which intended to exploit a private bank possibility.

• "The only currency known to the Constitution of the United States is gold and silver. This is consequently the only currency which that instrument delegates to Congress the power to regulate."

—President Andrew Jackson in the middle 1830s

- Sadly his warning was not taken to heart, particularly by the Congress. It was deceptively usurped by the skillful propaganda and conniving of the privately owned American banks.

• Christian, noted author and lecturer, William T. Still says in his DVD, 'The Money Masters,' makes an extremely key point that is foundational to this review:

- "The battle over who gets to issue our money has been the pivotal issue throughout the history of the United States ... yet after World War I this battle has rarely been mentioned in newspapers or history books. Why? Because by the time of World War I, the Money Changers, with their dominant wealth, had seized control of most of the Nation's press."

3. What Early U.S. Government Leaders Said

• "If the American people ever allow private banks to control the issue of their money, first by inflation and then by deflation, the banks and corporations that will grow up around them, will deprive the people of their property until their children will wake up homeless on the continent their fathers conquered."

—Thomas Jefferson

- Jefferson understood that private banking would destroy the nation by artificial measures of inflation and deflation. It was a hidden enemy to the people and to the very cause of freedom that our forefathers died for.

- “I sincerely believe that banking institutions are more dangerous to our liberties than standing armies. The issuing power [of money and credit] should be taken from the banks and restored to the people to whom it properly belongs. Already they have raised up a moneyed aristocracy that has set the Government at defiance.” –Thomas Jefferson in 1789

- The power of national monetary control should rest properly with the people, and not to a private interest in the form of privately owned banks.
- “It was the banking monopoly that Jefferson considered to be the greatest danger to the survival of the [United States] Republic.” –Professor Antony C. Sutton, The Federal Reserve Conspiracy, 1995, p. 5

- “The system of banking [is] a blot left in all our Constitutions, which, if not covered, will end in their destruction... The eyes of our citizens are not sufficiently open to the true cause of our distress. They ascribe them to everything but their true cause, the banking system; a system, which, if it could do good in any form is yet so certain of leading to abuse, as to be utterly incompatible with the public safety and prosperity. I sincerely believe that banking establishments are more dangerous than standing armies; and that the principle of spending [debt-based loan] money to be paid by posterity, under the name of funding, is but swindling futurity on a large scale.” –Thomas Jefferson, 1819

- Thinking through the phrase, ‘banks are more dangerous than standing armies.’ We never hear anything like this today. Instead we hear about banks “that are too big to fail,” and hence are bailed out with taxpayer money to the tune of hundreds of billions of dollars (TARP). The reality of debt-based currency (fiat or otherwise) that ultimately leads to the disgraceful swindling of futurity. That understanding is more true than we realize.

- “The modern theory of the perpetuation of debt has drenched the earth with blood, and crushed its inhabitants under burdens ever accumulating.” –Thomas Jefferson

- All Jefferson had to do was to look over at England to see how its people were being crushed by private banks, how wars were being started and financed by the same banks, and how debt accrual—compounded interest—was the most tyrannical taskmaster.

- “Everything predicted by the enemies of banks, in the beginning, is now coming to pass. We are to be ruined now by a deluge of bank paper; as we were formerly by the old Continental paper. It is cruel that such revolutions in private fortunes should be at the mercy of avaricious adventurers, who instead of employing their capital, if any they have, in manufactures, commerce, and other useful pursuits, make it an instrument to burden all the interchanges of property with their swindling profits, profits which are the price of no useful industry of theirs. Prudent men must be on their guard in this game of Robin’s Alive, and take care that the spark does not extinguish in their hands. I am an enemy to all banks discounting bills or notes for anything but coin. But our whole country is so fascinated by this Jack o’ Lantern wealth, that they will not stop short of its total and fateful explosion.” –President Thomas Jefferson

- The difference between real coin and fiat paper money backed by nothing.
- This is exactly what the Federal Reserve’s policy of “Quantitative Easing” is: a deluge of injected money that is ruining the value of our currency every month, every year.

- “... To take a single step beyond the boundaries thus specially drawn around the powers of Congress is to take possession of a boundless field of power, no longer susceptible of any definition. The incorporation of a bank, and the powers assumed by this bill [chartering the first Bank of the United States], have not been delegated to the United States by the Constitution.” –Thomas Jefferson, in strong opposition to the chartering of the first Bank of the United States (1791)

- Jefferson was on the warpath not to hand over the control of money and credit in a charter to a privately owned bank. He clearly conveyed that the U.S. Constitution did not allow for this kind of delegation. Such a measure did eventually pass, so what does that tell us about Congress?
- Jefferson was so burdened by this debt in borrowing situation that he actually desired to add just one more amendment to the U.S. Constitution to call for a complete ban on all government borrowing at interest. Here is what he said,
 - “I wish it were possible to obtain a single amendment to our Constitution. I would be willing to depend on that alone for the reduction of the administration of our government to the genuine principles of its Constitution; I mean an additional article, taking from the federal government the power of borrowing.”
- “History records that the money changers have used every form of abuse, intrigue, deceit, and violent means possible to maintain their control over governments by controlling money and its issuance.”
 - President James Madison, primary architect and author of the U.S. Constitution
 - If the Money Power, or Money Trust, can maintain its monopoly over money, credit and its issuance, it will resolve to use any means available to keep the game going: everything available in the book requiring the end justifies the means, including abuse, intrigue, deceit, fraud, violence, assassinations, and other forms of absolute evil.
- “If Congress has the right under the Constitution to issue paper money, it was given them to use themselves, not to be delegated to individuals or corporations.” –President Andrew Jackson
 - It was as clear then as it is now; monetary issuance is not to be given to private corporations like the privately owned Federal Reserve (1913). To think so is to believe a lie.
- “Gentlemen [referring to the U.S. Wall Street led banking establishment who were behind renewing the Second Bank of the United States Charter]. I have had men watching you for a long time and I am convinced that you have used the funds of the bank to speculate in the breadstuffs of the country. When you won, you divided the profits amongst you and when you lost, you charged it to the bank. You tell me that if I take the deposits from the bank and annul its charter, I shall ruin ten thousand families. That may be true, gentlemen, but that is your sin! Should I let you go on, you will ruin fifty thousand families, and that would be my sin! You are a den of vipers and thieves. I intend to rout you out, and by the eternal God, I will rout you out. If only people understood the rank injustice of our banking and money system, there would be a revolution before morning.” –President Andrew Jackson, circa 1832
- In vetoing the Second Bank Charter in 1832, Jackson said,
 - “Controlling our currency, receiving our public moneys, and holding thousands of our citizens in dependence, it would be more formidable and dangerous than the naval and military power of the enemy.”
 - It was shortly after this dagger to the heart of the banking crooks, that an assassination attempt was made on President Jackson’s life. Incredibly, the would-be assassin’s pistols (both) jammed. To add insult to injury, no arrest was made. The would-be assassin had definite ties to the European Money Trust. The Money Power especially uses assassination to take out truth tellers.
 - Andrew Jackson was the only American President to pay off in full the Government debt (1835)
- President Andrew Jackson in 1836 laid it out again by saying,

- “The bold efforts the present bank had made to control the government are but premonitions of the fate that await the American people should they be deluded into a perpetuation of this institution or the establishment of another like it.”

Jackson already could see that the Money Trust would only take time to reload and attempt again to legislate another privately owned central bank. Only the American people in delusion would swallow the poison that was so obvious in such a step. It would come 77 years later (from 1836) in 1913 with the Federal Reserve Bank Act.

- “It is easy to conceive the great evils to our country and its institutions might flow from such a concentration of power in the hands of a few men [i.e., bankers] irresponsible to the people.”
–President Andrew Jackson

- “The rich and powerful too often bend the acts of government.” –President Andrew Jackson
 - It is not the poor who manipulate the system to their own ends, it is the rich, and has always been so. The secret history of the United States demonstrates this truth abundantly.

- “The Government should create, issue, and circulate all the currency and credits needed to satisfy the spending power of the Government and the buying power of consumers. The privilege of creating and issuing money is not only the supreme prerogative of the Government, but it is the Government’s greatest creative opportunity. By the adoption of these principles, the long-felt want for a uniform medium will be satisfied. The taxpayer will be saved immense sums of interest. The financing of all public enterprises, and the conduct of the Treasury will become matters of practical administration. Money will cease to be the master and become the servant of humanity.” –President Abraham Lincoln

- The government’s responsibility we think is to the Constitution and not to private interests. Lincoln fully grasped the idea of issuing debt-free currency on behalf of the U.S. government.
- Despite such clear vision by the President about the proper responsibility of government, history tells us that other malign forces were at work on behalf of the Money Power to wrench it away. Congress as always been prey to an abrogated responsibility such as when it handed off its responsibility from the people to the disguised Money Power.

- “I see in the near future a crisis approaching that unnerves me, and causes me to tremble for the safety of my country. Corporations have been enthroned, an era of corruption will follow, and the Money Power of the country will endeavor to prolong its reign by working upon the prejudices of the people until the wealth is aggregated in a few hands, and the Republic is destroyed. I feel at this moment more anxiety for the safety of my country than ever before, even in the midst of war.” –President Abraham Lincoln, in a letter written to William Elkin in 1863.

- Lincoln knew the game then. He knew that the Money Power would relentlessly drive toward absolute monetary control over the nation, even at the expense of the liberties of the people. Lincoln was right: the anxiety over the encroaching Money Power greatly exceeded his fears about the realities of civil war.

- “Whoever controls the volume of money in any country is absolute master of all industry and commerce... And when you realize that the entire system is very easily controlled, one way or another, by a few powerful men at the top, you will not have to be told how periods of inflation and depression originate.” –newly inaugurated President James A. Garfield in 1881, who understood as a Congressman how the national economy was being manipulated by a small banking elite

- Two weeks later from this pronouncement Garfield was shot and killed. Is it just a coincidence that any U.S. president that stood up to the Money Power in practically any way was found to be subsequently assassinated? Garfield is but another supreme example beyond Lincoln himself, and beyond Jackson to boot. He would not be the last.

- “The Money Power denounces, as public enemies, all who question its methods or throw light upon its crimes.” –Democrat and Presidential candidate William Jennings Bryan in the 20th century
 - The Money Power has the power to detract, to discredit, to denounce, and even to assassinate because it has the money to buy and pay off influence, to buy media, to buy mercenaries of all kinds who will represent its interest in the public market place.
- “Issue of currency should be lodged with the government and be protected from domination by Wall Street. We are opposed to ... provisions [which] would place our currency and credit system in private hands.” –former President Theodore Roosevelt

4. Modern Central Banking: Gigantic Fraud Disguised; Creating Money out of Thin Air

- “The bank hath benefit of interest on all moneys which it creates out of nothing.” –William Paterson, founder of the Bank of England, founded in 1694
 - Truth right here. Money is created literally out of nothing, out of thin air. And then we are charged real interest on it. On a complete and fraudulent creation. Based on other earlier Renaissance history, the Money Power was already going at this point. The first rudiments of a formalized central bank and fractional reserve lending were formed in 1609 in Amsterdam.

- “Banks lend by creating credit. They create the means of payment out of nothing.”
– Ralph M. Hawtrey, former Secretary of the Exchequer, England
 - Creation of money and credit out of thin air. It is just an entry somewhere in an accounting book. But the interest is real since we are paying for a loan according to its terms.

- “Banks create money. That is what they are there for.... The manufacturing process to make money consists of making an entry in a book. That is all.... Each and every time a Bank makes a loan ... new Bank credit is created—brand new money.”
–Graham Towers, Governor of the (privately owned) Bank of Canada, from 1935 to 1955

- “The banks do create money. They have been doing it for a long time, but they didn't quite realize it, and they did not admit it. Very few did. You will find it in all sorts of documents, financial textbooks, etc. But in the intervening years, and we must all be perfectly frank about these things, there has been a development of thought, until today I doubt very much whether you would get many prominent bankers to attempt to deny that banks create credit.” –H.W. White, Chairman of the Associated Banks of New Zealand, to the New Zealand Monetary Commission, 1955.

- Honest admission of fraud—except that they have realized it for a very long time!

- “The process by which banks create money is so simple that the mind is repelled.”
- John K. Galbraith, in “Money: Whence it came, Where it went”, 1975, p. 29
 - Common reaction to the exposed fraud where money is created out of nothing. We have been conditioned to suppose that some complex process is involved for the bank in getting you the money you seek. It is all an illusion. It is merely an entry in the account book.

- “When you or I write a check there must be sufficient funds in our account to cover the check, but when the Federal Reserve writes a check there is no bank deposit on which that check is drawn. When the Federal Reserve writes a check, it is creating money.” –Booklet: Putting It Simply, Boston Federal Reserve Bank (one of 12 Federal Reserve Banks located around the country)

- Most folks do not comprehend what the Federal Reserve even does. It is all under the deceptive mastery of fraud and illusion.

- “When a bank makes a loan, it simply adds to the borrower’s deposit account in the bank by the amount of the loan. The money is not taken from anyone else’s deposit; it was not previously paid in to the bank by anyone. It is new money, created by the bank for the use of the borrower.” –Robert B. Anderson, Secretary of the U.S. Treasury, quoted in U.S. News and World Report, August 31, 1959

- “The Federal Reserve has the power to create money. This money is fiction, created out of nothing. This can be money in the form of created credit through the discount window at which other banks borrow at the discount rate of interest or it can be notes printed by the [U.S.] Treasury and sold to the Federal Reserve and paid for by Federal Reserve created funds. In brief, this private group of bankers has a money machine monopoly. This monopoly is uncontrolled by anyone and is guaranteed profit. Further, the monopoly doesn’t have to answer questions or produce books or file annual statements. It is an unrestricted money monopoly.”

–Professor Antony C. Sutton, The Federal Reserve Conspiracy, 1995, p. 5

- “How pale is the art of sorcerers, witches, and conjurers when compared with that of the government's Treasury Department!” –Outspoken 20th century Political Economist Ludwig von Mises

- It is all based on various forms of lying. It is all fraud dressed up magnificently to look legitimate. And, for the most part, the costumes work perfectly well because most do not recognize the fraud being perpetrated. The experts know, but take great risk exposing the con game.

- “The mandate for the creation of money has been surreptitiously removed from Governments and thus ‘the people’ by a private banking cartel owned and run in its entirety by the Elite [Money Trust]. It is generally assumed by the layman that all money is issued by and under the control of government, but this is not so. With the exceptions of coins, which comprise less than 0.5% of the total money in circulation, all money is now created by private corporations, i.e., banks. In the USA, the Federal Reserve Bank, a private banking corporation is responsible for the issuance of notes, and in the United Kingdom, it is the Bank of England whose responsibility is the creation of our money. This currency is then astoundingly, lent to governments and must be repaid along with interest accrued....”

–John Hamer, The Falsification of History: Our Distorted Reality, 2012, p. 131

5. European Central Banks and Their Pivotal Role in the U.S. Civil War

- “... In 1857, the financial leaders of the [Money Trust], the House of Rothschild, assembled to celebrate the wedding of Lionel’s daughter, Leonora, to her cousin Alphonse, son of James de Rothschild of Paris. At this gathering, [Benjamin] Disraeli said, ‘Under this roof are the heads of the family of Rothschild—a name famous in every capital of Europe and every division of the globe. If you like, we shall divide the United States into two parts, one for you, James, and one for you, Lionel. Napoleon shall do exactly and all that I shall advise him (p. 228, ‘The Rothschilds,’ by John Reeves).’” –Historian Eustace Mullins, The Curse of Canaan, 1987, p. 150

- “It is not to be doubted, I know of absolute certainty, that the divisions of the United States into two federations of equal power had been decided upon well in advance of the Civil War by the top financial powers of Europe. These bankers were afraid that the United States, if they were to remain entirely one and were developed into one Nation only, would achieve economic and financial independence, and this later would completely upset the capital domination of Europe over the world. Of course, within the 'inner circle' of finance, the voice of the Rothschilds dominated. They foresaw the chance of prodigious booty if they could substitute two weak democracies, burdened with debt, imploring the aid of Jewish financiers, in place of the vigorous Republic, confident and proud, sufficient unto herself. Consequently, they put their emissaries in the field to exploit the question of slavery, to open up the abyss between the North and South that became inevitable; the masters of European Finance employed all the forces at their disposal in bringing it about and to turn it to their account." –German Chancellor Otto von Bismarck, 1871-1890 (Quoted in Hope for the Wicked, Ted Flynn, 2000, p. 209)

- This is hidden cause for the U.S. civil war. It was all about the control and issuance of money. Private interests articulated by the Rothschilds would not allow an independent Republic to be free from their conniving and sinful interests of debt-based currency and fiat money.

• To give the reader a sense of just how worried the Rothschild Money Trust in England felt about the situation with President Lincoln, consider this editorial that came out of the London Times in response to Lincoln's effort to issue debt-free 'greenbacks' to pay for the Government's actions during the Civil War:

- "If this mischievous financial policy, which has its origin in North America, shall become endured down to a fixture, then that Government will furnish its own money without cost. It will pay off debts and be without debt. It will have all the money necessary to carry on its commerce. It will become prosperous without precedent in the history of the world. The brains, and wealth of all countries will go to North America. That country must be destroyed or it will destroy every monarchy on the globe."

6. The Supposedly Dignified Money Power is Really a Terrifying Monster

• "The hand that gives is above the hand that takes. Money has no Motherland; financiers are without patriotism and without decency: their sole object is gain." –French Emperor Napoleon before his defeat at Waterloo in 1815

- Napoleon understood the simple truth than behind military power there had to be financial power. He, too, was indebted to the hidden monetary powers to conduct his campaigns.

• "The modern banking system manufactures money out of nothing. The process is perhaps the most astounding piece of sleight of hand that was ever invented. Banking was conceived in iniquity and born in sin. Bankers own the earth. Take it away from them, but leave them the power to create credit, and with the flick of a pen, they will create enough money to buy it back again. Take this great power away from the Bankers and all the great fortunes like mine will disappear, and they ought to disappear, for this would be a better and happier world to live in. But if you want to be the slaves of bankers and pay the cost of your own slavery, let them continue to create money and to control credit."

- Sir Josiah Stamp, Director and President of the Bank of England during the 1920s, quoted in 1940; died in 1941; reputed to be the 2nd wealthiest man in England at that time, second only to Rothschild

- A moment of candid and brutal honesty coming in 1940. Banks create money out of nothing and can, by the flick of a pen, create enough money to buy the world. The world is on a trajectory toward total debt-based slavery that has been known for a long time. One can detect a Christian appeal in this frank admission.

• "The Money Power preys on the nation in times of peace and conspires against it in times of adversity. It is more despotic than monarchy, more insolent than autocracy, more selfish than bureaucracy.... It denounces, as public enemies, all who question its methods or throw light upon its crimes." –President Abraham Lincoln, in a letter written to William Elkin in 1863

- The Money Power is the masquerading evil hidden in broad daylight. It is there for everyone to see, but no one sees it. It is an instrument to this country's demise, a blight that true leaders have exposed, but which continues its relentlessly destructive work in plain sight.

- "Abraham Lincoln was the last of several populist presidents to fight against the money monopoly. Lincoln from the very beginning of his administration faced a heavy burden of financing the Civil War with a monetary system under private control. During the Civil War the Union government was hard-pressed to raise sufficient funds to pay troops, there was a shortage of [physical] coin and the private [New York based Wall Street] banking system was unwilling to meet the needs of the Union Army without personal gain. Lincoln was in the Jeffersonian–Jacksonian tradition. This tradition reserved the right to issue currency to the Federal Government and argued that this right could not lawfully be transferred to a private monopoly. In 1862 Lincoln presented to Congress a bill to make United States notes full legal tender and so enable the Federal Government to print sufficient paper money to finance the Civil War...." –Professor Antony C. Sutton, The Federal Reserve Conspiracy, 1995, p. 49
 - Lincoln had to continuously battle the national (New York Wall Street based) and international Money Power at every step to see his plan realized. This is the primary reason why the Money Power had Lincoln assassinated. To have debt-free money authorized by the Government itself was something the Money Power couldn't allow.

- "The death of Lincoln was a disaster for Christendom. There was no man in the United States great enough to wear his boots and the bankers went anew to grab the riches. I fear that foreign bankers with their craftiness and tortuous tricks will entirely control the exuberant riches of America and use it to systematically corrupt modern civilization. They will not hesitate to plunge the whole of Christendom into wars and chaos in order that the earth should become their inheritance." –German Chancellor Otto von Bismarck
 - The European banking Money Power was central to the conspiracy that had Lincoln murdered. John Wilkes Booth was a 33rd degree Freemason working in conjunction with 33rd degree Scottish Rite Freemasonic leader Albert Pike. The Freemasons are but the executive arm of the International Banking conglomerate, who themselves are ruled entirely by the enterprise of Freemasonry.

- "We have stricken the (slave) shackles from four million human beings and brought all laborers to a common level not so much by the elevation of former slaves as by practically reducing the whole working population, white and black, to a condition of serfdom. While boasting of our noble deeds, we are careful to conceal the ugly fact that by an iniquitous money system we have nationalized a system of oppression which, though more refined, is not less cruel than the old system of chattel slavery."

–Newspaper Publisher Horace Greeley, (1811-1872), founder of the New York Tribune

 - What he knew and when he knew it; he was an identified member of the Illuminati in America

- "A great industrial nation is controlled by its system of credit. Our system of credit is concentrated. The growth of the Nation and all our activities are in the hands of a few men. We have come to be one of the worst ruled, one of the most completely controlled and dominated Governments in the world—no longer a Government of free opinion, no longer a Government by conviction and vote of the majority, but a Government by the opinion and duress of small groups of dominant men.... Since I entered politics, I have chiefly had men's views confided to me privately. Some of the biggest men in the U.S., in the field of commerce and manufacturing, are afraid of somebody, are afraid of something. They know that there is a power somewhere so organized, so subtle, so watchful, so interlocked, so complete, so pervasive, that they had better not speak above their breath when they speak in condemnation of it." –Woodrow Wilson, in The New Freedom (1913), p. 13-14

- Extraordinary insight by a man who would become President of the United States and then vote into law the Federal Reserve Act (late December 1913). He was incredibly deceived into signing this legislation into law coupled to the fact that he was deeply indebted to Wall Street Bankers. He should have known better based on his perceptions of this wicked power present in the shadows. But he was coached into signing it by 33rd degree Freemason advisor Edward Mandell House.

- “The fact is that there is a serious danger of this country becoming a Pluto-democracy; that is, a sham republic with the real government in the hands of a small clique of enormously wealthy men, who speak through their money, and whose influence, even today, radiates to every corner of the United States.”
 - William McAdoo, President Wilson's national campaign vice-chairman, writing in Crowded Years
 - Who really controls the government? The elected officials? Sadly, no. It is the Money Power.

- “Nothing did more to spur the boom in stocks than the decision made by the New York Federal Reserve bank, in the spring of 1927, to cut the rediscount rate. Benjamin Strong, Governor of the bank, was chief advocate of this unwise measure, which was taken largely at the behest of Montagu Norman of the Bank of England....At the time of the Banks action I warned of its consequences....I felt that sooner or later the market had to break.” –Money baron Bernard Baruch in Baruch: The Public Years (1960)
 - Made to look innocent; Baruch has 33rd Freemason status; he profited from the ensuing chaos.
 - The entire crash was manipulated by the Federal Reserve. It was all about consolidating more financial powers into their hands.

- “We are in danger of being overwhelmed with irredeemable paper, mere paper, representing not gold nor silver; no sir, representing nothing but broken promises, bad faith, bankrupt corporations, cheated creditors and a ruined people.” –Massachusetts Senator Daniel Webster, 1782-1852
 - The reality of fiat paper not really tied to anything of physical wealth, only a promise of payment in equivalence.
 - This is what our government has signed us up for. It is altogether crushing and heart-rending.

- “Of all the contrivances for cheating the laboring classes of mankind, none has been more effective than that which deludes them with paper money.” –American Statesman Daniel Webster, 1782-1852
 - Fraud of fiat currency: paper which is little more than a debt-based IOU; most folks don't get it.

- “If all the bank loans were paid, there would not be a dollar in circulation. This is a staggering thought. We are completely dependent on the commercial Banks. Someone has to borrow every dollar we have in circulation, cash or credit. If the Banks create ample synthetic money we are prosperous; if not, we starve. We are absolutely without a permanent money system. When one gets a complete grasp of the picture, the tragic absurdity of our hopeless position is almost incredible, but there it is. It is the most important subject intelligent persons can investigate and reflect upon.” –Robert H. Hemphill, Credit Manager of the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta, Georgia, 1934
 - Shocking to hear this level of honest disclosure coming from someone who actually works on the inside and sees the system for what it is. The debt-free currency issued by Lincoln actually solved this situation, but the Money Power would not allow it.

- “Interest has always been the Money Power's main instrument. It took control of the planet by starting wars, financing both sides, and having Governments go deeply into debt. Interest is a wealth transfer from the poorest 80% to the richest 10%.” –Anthony Mighels, October 5, 2012; www.henrymakow.com

7. The Stealthy and Wicked Designs of the Money Power

A. The power of money facilitates national control

- “From the earliest days, the Rothschilds appreciated the importance of proximity to politicians, the men who determined not only the extent of budget deficits but also the domestic and foreign policies...”
 - Niall Ferguson, currently professor of history at Harvard University
 - Budget deficits are the explicitly intended outcome of the Money Power. More debt equals more interest which equals more profits for them. Deficits obviously affect governmental policies.
- “The real truth of the matter is, as you and I know, that a financial element in the large centers has owned the government of the U.S. since the days of Andrew Jackson.” –U.S. President Franklin D. Roosevelt in a letter written Nov. 21, 1933 to Presidential Advisor Colonel Edward Mandell House
 - The private banks ‘own’ the U.S. government and have for a long time; as far back as 1830ish
- “... the powers of financial capitalism had another far-reaching aim, nothing less than to create a world system of financial control in private hands able to dominate the political system of each country and the economy of the world as a whole. Their secret is that they have annexed from governments, monarchies and republics the power to create the world’s money on debt-terms requiring tribute both in principal and interest.”
 - Georgetown University Professor and author Carroll Quigley in Tragedy and Hope, 1966, p. 324
 - We are grateful to Professor Quigley for revealing so many details of the hidden underworld.

B. The monopolized Money Power are the originators of inflation

- “If the American people ever allow private banks to control the issue of their money, first by inflation and then by deflation, the banks and corporations that will grow up around them, will deprive the people of their property until their children will wake up homeless on the continent their fathers conquered.”
 - Thomas Jefferson
 - Jefferson understood that the Money Power can, at a whim, introduce both inflation and deflation, regardless of what the representative and elected government says.
- “If you increase the quantity of money, you bring about the lowering of the purchasing power of the monetary unit.” –20th century philosopher and political economist Ludwig von Mises (1881-1973)
 - The very definition of inflation
- Congressman Charles A. Lindbergh in no uncertain terms about the Fed and engineered inflation:

- “By a continuous process of inflation, governments can confiscate, secretly and unobserved, an important part of the wealth of their citizens. By this method, they not only confiscate, but they confiscate arbitrarily; and while the process impoverishes many, it actually enriches some... The process engages all of the hidden forces of economic law on the side of destruction, and does it in a manner that not one man in a million can diagnose.” –British Fabian socialist and economic elitist John Maynard Keynes, Economic Consequences of the Peace, 1920

- This is the same man who helped set up the United States dollar as the world reserve currency shortly after World War II, and who foresaw its ultimate demise due to uncontrolled deficit spending.

C. The power of Money facilitates national transactions leading toward world control

- “Throughout the first half of the nineteenth century, the (Rothschild) brothers conducted important transactions on behalf of the governments of England, France, Prussia, Austria, Belgium, Spain, Naples, Portugal, Brazil, various German states and smaller countries. They were the personal bankers of many of the crowned heads of Europe. They made large investments, through agents, in markets as distant as the United States, India, Cuba and Australia.” –G. Edward Griffin, The Creature from Jekyll Island, 1994

- The Money Power expanded control internationally on a scale that is practically indescribable. All privately owned and operated. Nations become their controlled clients.

- “[Fraud based] Capital must protect itself in every possible way, both by combination and legislation. Debts must be collected, mortgages foreclosed as quickly as possible. When, through process of law, the common people lose their homes they will become more docile and more easily governed through the strong arm of the government applied by a central power of wealth under leading financiers. These truths are well known among our principal men, who are now engaged in forming an imperialism to govern the world. By dividing the voter through the political party system, we can get them to expend their energies in fighting for questions of no importance. It is thus, by discrete action, we can secure for ourselves that which has been so well planned and so successfully accomplished.” –Montagu Norman, Governor of The Bank of England, addressing the United States Bankers’ Association, New York, 1924

- Use unrighteous legislation to protect the Money Power, not the people!
- The utter heartlessness of bankers working to deprive homeowners of their homes and livelihood
- Fraud and the use of illicit control elements are well known to the banking insiders
- Use of the principle of the dialectic to divide and conquer the masses
- What exactly has been so well planned and successfully accomplished? Absolute monetary control leading to their eventual New World Order plan and its implementation

- “The invisible Money Power is working to control and enslave mankind. It financed Communism, Fascism, Marxism, Zionism, Socialism. All of these are directed to making the United States a member of a World Government.” –American Mercury Magazine, December 1957, p. 92

- All of these ‘isms’ are but manufactured and contrived ideologies designed to serve the interests of the leaders behind the Money Power. All part of a secret plan leading to a one world government.

- “The powers of financial capitalism had another far-reaching aim, nothing less than to create a world system of financial control in private hands able to dominate the political system of each country and the economy of the world as a whole... This system was to be controlled in a feudalist fashion by the central banks of the world acting in concert, by secret agreements arrived at in frequent private meetings and conferences.” –Dr. Carroll Quigley, Tragedy and Hope, 1966, p. 324

- The real aim of central banking? Total and global economic control in the hands of a few private bankers; the integration of the central banks under their absolute control.
 - These meetings are held in secret and are never audited by the any government!
- “Today all central banks are privately owned. Without exception, all are servants of the Rothschilds.”
–Worldwide Evil and Misery, Robin de Ruiter and Fritz Springmeier, 2001, p. 55
 - Iraq under Saddam Hussein did not have a central bank; it was invaded in 2003
 - Libya under Gaddafi did not have a central bank; it was invaded in 2011
 - These wars, and others similar, are secretly arranged to satisfy the plan that every country will have a privately owned, Rothschild controlled central bank.

D. The Money Power and its desire for absolute Media Control

- On February 9, 1917, Congressman Oscar Callaway inserted the following into the Congressional Record:
 - “In March, 1915, the J.P. Morgan interests, the steel, shipbuilding, and [gun] powder interest, and their subsidiary organizations, got together 12 men high up in the newspaper world and employed them to select the most influential newspapers in the United States and sufficient number of them to control generally the policy of the daily press. These 12 men worked the problem out by selecting 179 newspapers, and then began, by an elimination process, to retain only those necessary for the purposes of controlling the general policy of the daily press throughout the country. They found it was only necessary to purchase the control of 25 of the greatest papers. The 25 papers were agreed upon; emissaries were sent to purchase the policy, national and international, of these papers; an agreement was reached; the policy of the papers was bought, to be paid for by the month; an editor was furnished for each paper to properly supervise and edit information regarding the questions of preparedness, militarism, financial policies, and other things of national and international nature considered vital to the interests of the purchasers. This contract is in existence at the present time, and it accounts for the news columns of the daily press of the country being filled with all sorts of preparedness arguments....”
 - What vast wealth allows the rich to do: to protect their private interests; to significantly influence public policy stealthily across a vast spectrum of events and values. It leads us directly to the modern subject of propaganda.

E. The Money Power and the Bank of International Settlements

- “Operating in great obscurity in Basel, Switzerland, the Bank of International Settlements (BIS) wields even greater power than the Federal Reserve as it is considered the central banks’ central bank. The BIS, operating on a global level, coordinates with the local central bank in each country, the material changes in domestic law necessary to bring the world monetary system into harmony. Over the years it has, like the Federal Reserve, amassed greater and greater control over more aspects of the global monetary system.” –Ted Flynn, Hope of the Wicked, 2000, p. 177
- “... the powers of financial capitalism had another far-reaching aim, nothing less than to create a world system of financial control in private hands able to dominate the political system of each country and the economy of the world as a whole. This system was to be controlled in a feudalist fashion by the central banks of the world acting in concert, by secret agreements arrived at in frequent meetings and conferences. The apex of the systems was to be the Bank for International Settlements in Basel, Switzerland; a private bank owned and controlled by the world's central banks which were themselves private corporations. Each central bank...sought to dominate its government by its ability to control Treasury loans, to manipulate foreign exchanges, to influence the level of economic activity in the country, and to influence cooperative politicians by subsequent economic rewards in the business world.”

-Georgetown Professor and author Carroll Quigley in Tragedy and Hope, 1966, p. 324

- The Bank of International Settlements is the apex of it all, hidden in broad daylight.

• “The Federal Reserve Bank of New York is eager to enter into close relationship with the Bank for International Settlements.... The conclusion is impossible to escape that the State and Treasury Departments are willing to pool the banking system of Europe and America, setting up a world financial power independent of and above the Government of the United States....The United States under the present conditions will be transformed from the most active of manufacturing nations into a consuming and importing nation with a balance of trade against it.”

- Congressional Representative Louis T. McFadden - Chairman of the House Committee on Banking and Currency; quoted in the New York Times (June 1930)
- Congressman McFadden could already see in 1930 where this policy would lead to—the very thing that we see now in America: we are no longer a manufacturing country, but a consuming and importing country with the greatest debt in the entire world.
- Congressman McFadden was poisoned and died a horrible death. It is easy to imagine who was behind the deed. He died on the third assassination attempt.

• “In a small Swiss city sits an international organization so obscure and secretive.... Control of the institution, the Bank for International Settlements, lies with some of the world's most powerful and least visible men: the heads of 32 central banks, officials able to shift billions of dollars and alter the course of economies at the stroke of a pen.” –Keith Bradsher of the New York Times, August 5, 1995

- A central bank for central banks working entirely in secret yet standing in broad daylight.

• On June 28, 1998, the Washington Post published an article about the Bank of International Settlements titled, ‘At Secret Meetings in Switzerland, 13 People Shape the World’s Economy,’ which described these individuals as ‘this economic cabal ... this secretive group ... the financial barons who control the world’s supply of money.’ –quoted in Brotherhood of Darkness, Dr. Stan Monteith, 2000, p. 33

- Interesting to note the primary occult number ‘13’ which is very important to Freemasonry. These numbers are not randomly selected, but are derived from their dark occult theology.

• In a recent article entitled, ‘Who controls the Money? An unelected, unaccountable central bank of the world secretly does,’ current events writer and columnist Michael Snyder tells us some amazing facts:

- “An immensely powerful international organization that most people have never heard of secretly controls the money supply of the entire globe. It is called the Bank for International Settlements (BIS), and it is the central bank of central banks. It is located in Basel, Switzerland... It is essentially an unelected, unaccountable central bank of the world that has complete immunity from taxation and from national laws. Even Wikipedia admits, ‘it is not accountable to any single national government’ ... Today 58 global central banks belong to the BIS, and it has far more power over how the U.S. economy ... will perform over the course of the next year than any politician does. Every two months, the central bankers of the world gather in Basel for another ‘global economy meeting.’ During those meetings, decisions are made which affect every man, woman and child on the planet, and yet none of us have any say in what goes on. The Bank for International Settlements is an organization that was founded by the global elite and it operates for the benefit of the global elite, and it is intended to be one of the key cornerstones of the emerging one world economic system.” –February 5, 2013
- Ask yourself how many people actually know these facts?

F. The Money Power and its Utter Unaccountability to the Government or the People

- “Lord Rothschild had access to all manner of leaders and experts. He was responsible only to the Prime Minister and answerable to neither the electorate nor the civil service chiefs.” –Rothschild Biographer Derek Wilson in the late 1980s

- The Money Power has never been responsible to Government. Only the appearance of moral integrity and accountability. But it is a false and fraudulent appearance.

- “When we take actions, they are not reversible by any other body of government.” –Vice Chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, Alan Blinder, New York Times, September 26, 1994

- The decisions of the Federal Reserve cannot be challenged or changed by the United States Government, and that includes the President, or by anyone else in the whole universe!

- “Well, first of all, the Federal Reserve is an independent Agency, and that means, basically, that there is no other agency of government which can overrule actions that we take. So long as that is in place and there is no evidence that the administration or the Congress or anybody else is requesting that we do things other than what we think is the appropriate thing, then what the relations are don’t, frankly, matter.” –Alan Greenspan, former head of the Federal Reserve, in an interview on the PBS News Hour, with interviewer Jim Lehrer, September 18, 2007

- In other words, they are not responsible to anyone; whatever they think is ‘appropriate’ is all there is. It doesn’t matter whether the President, the Secretary of the Treasury, or the Congress disagree with policy decisions of the Federal Reserve! This is what is referred to politely as economic dictatorship.

- “... the monetary system of the United States is in the hands of a few wealthy and powerful individuals who control our economy. What this means is that the power of the Federal Reserve exceeds and supercedes that of our President and Congress. The Federal Reserve is not accountable to them. They have never issued an annual report and their meetings are not reported to the press until six months after they have made a monetary decision.” –Ted Flynn, Hope of the Wicked, 2000, p. 176

- Very few people grasp the reality of how the Federal Reserve, in effect, has absolute authority over national economic matters, exceeding even the authority vested in either the President or the Congress! This very arrangement is at complete odds with the intent of the Constitution which promoted accountability and transparency of a government of the people for the people.

G. National and International Banking Tied Explicitly to Freemasonry

- “Since the days of Meyer Amschel Rothschild, international banking and the Masonic oligarchy have been inseparable, cooperating in their ever expanding financial control of nations.”

–John Daniel, Scarlet and the Beast, Volume II, 1995, p. 56

- According to British investigative journalist Martin Short in his book Inside the Brotherhood (1989), unless you are a Freemason, you cannot work for the London banks.

8. The Strategies of the Money Power: Keep it Hidden; Use Misdirection; Invoke Ignorance

- “This worthy President [Andrew Jackson] thinks that because he has scalped Indians and imprisoned Judges, he is to have his way with the Bank. He is mistaken... Nothing but widespread suffering will produce any effect on Congress... Our only safety is in pursuing a steady course of firm restriction—and I have no doubt that such a course will ultimately lead to restoration of the currency and the re-charter of the bank.” –Private Banking emissary to the European Rothschilds, Nicholas Biddle, sometime in 1833, threatening the American public with economic contraction/recession for not granting an exclusive monopoly on the charter of a National Bank owned by private interests.

- The constant tactic of the Money Power has always been to instill fear in the public in order to manipulate them according to their prescribed ends. The planned economic recession did not work. The charter was not renewed by President Andrew Jackson.
- “It is well enough that people of the nation do not understand our banking and monetary system, for if they did, I believe there would be a revolution before tomorrow morning.” –American Automobile genius Henry Ford
 - The continuing emphasis of the Money Power has always been to make finance, monetary issuance and credit look incomprehensible to the average man on the street. In reality to Henry Ford, 33rd degree Freemason, it is NOT well enough that the people do not understand our banking and monetary system. Such knowledge has been deliberately suppressed from them. And that is why there is no revolution, nor has been since 1913.
- “World bankers, by pulling a few simple levers that control the flow of money, can make or break entire economies. By controlling press releases of economic strategies that shape national trends, the power elite are able to not only tighten their stranglehold on this nation’s economic structure [Great Britain], but can extend that control worldwide. Those possessing such power would logically want to remain in the background, invisible to the average citizen.” –New World Order Elite insider, philosopher and author Aldous Huxley (1894-1963).
- “[The] abandonment of the gold standard made it possible for the welfare statist to use the banking system as a means to an unlimited expansion of credit.... In the absence of the gold standard, there is no way to protect savings from confiscation through inflation. There is no safe store of value. If there were, the government would have to make its holdings illegal, as was done in the case of gold.... The financial policy of the welfare state requires that there be no way for the owners of wealth to protect themselves.... [This] is the shabby secret of the welfare statist’s tirades against gold. Deficit spending is simply a scheme for the ‘hidden’ confiscation of wealth. Gold stands in the way of this insidious process. It stands as a protector of property rights.” –soon-to-be Federal Reserve President Alan Greenspan in an article he wrote in 1966.
 - Another shocking example of how these banking experts know exactly the truth of the matter, but when installed into its system with all of the showered financial benefits, they change the tune and say nothing about the detriments.
- “By remaining behind the scenes, they (the Rothschilds) were able to avoid the brunt of public anger which was directed, instead, at the political figures which they largely controlled. This is a technique which has been practiced by financial manipulators ever since, and it is fully utilized by those who operate the Federal Reserve System today.” -G. Edward Griffin, The Creature from Jekyll Island, 1994
 - This is the historically well-proven and choice tool of misdirection. People think that the Federal Reserve is accountable to the President or the Congress. They are not. It is all false appearance.
- “Most Americans have no real understanding of the operations of the international moneylenders... the accounts of the Federal Reserve have never been audited. It operates outside the control of Congress and ... manipulates the credit of the United States” –Senator Barry Goldwater (Republican–Arizona)
 - Reality and truth; what we think about the powers of the government and the Fed
 - It has only been partially audited once. Further details below.

• “The study of money, above all other fields in economics, is one in which complexity is used to disguise truth or to evade truth, not to reveal it.” –Nobel Laureate John Kenneth Galbraith, in “Money: Whence it came, Where it went”, 1975, p. 29

- Real truth because if people truly understood the con game there would be revolution, provided the lazy American people actually care enough to do something about their own impending slavery.

• “Nothing is more dangerous to the power of the elite than the public discovery and understanding of the private control of money supply.” –Professor Antony C. Sutton, The Federal Reserve Conspiracy, 1995, p. 51

- And that is why “no one, but no one, ever criticizes the Fed and survives ... an academic book criticizing the Federal Reserve will never find a publisher and the economist author would probably find tenure denied.” –Ibid, p. 2-3

9. Historical Voices of Criticism and Opposition

• “This Federal Reserve Act establishes the most gigantic trust on earth. When the President (Woodrow Wilson) signs this bill the invisible government by the Monetary Power will be legalized. The people may not know it immediately but the day of reckoning is only a few years removed. The worst legislative crime of the ages is perpetrated by this banking bill.” –The Right Honorable Congressman Charles A. Lindbergh, Senior, on December 23, 1913.

- On the Federal Reserve legislation and Congressional passage in December 1913. Lindbergh appears as prophet of judgment. He could see through all the fraud concerning what this legislation meant. Unfortunately, the tide could not be turned in Congress to redress this colossal evil. It is now in our time that we are about to experience “the day of reckoning,” a catastrophic economic collapse that will be unprecedented in the annals of world history.

• “The financial system [of the United States]... has been turned over to ... the Federal Reserve Board. That board administers the finance system by authority of ... a purely profiteering group. The system is private, conducted for the sole purpose of obtaining the greatest possible profits from the use of other people’s money.” –Minnesota Republican congressman Charles A. Lindbergh, Sr. in 1923

- Congress no longer has any responsibility here; all monetary administration has been turned over to private independent board that is only concerned about its profits—not the welfare of the people!

• “The real menace of our Republic is the invisible government which like a giant octopus sprawls its slimy legs over our cities, states and nation. At the head is a small group of banking houses... This little coterie ... runs our government for their own selfish ends. It operates under cover of a self-created screen...seizes...our executive officers...legislative bodies...schools... courts...newspapers and every agency created for the public protection.” –John F. Hylan, Mayor of New York, Mayor, 1918-1925

- A man who understood the pecking order of U.S. society, beginning with banks at the very top. And yet, this particular knowledge seldom reaches down to the average person. It only reinforces just how powerful the elements of control really are. This was the mayor of New York City, and he could do nothing to change the nature of absolute bank-centric pyramid control.

• “From the days of Spartacus—Weishaupt, to those of Karl Marx, to those of Trotsky, Belacoon, Rosa Luxemburg and Ema Goldman, this worldwide conspiracy for the overthrow of civilization and for the reconstitution of society on the basis of arrested development and envious malevolence, and impossible equality has been steadily growing. This conspiracy played a definite recognizable role in the French Revolution. It has been the mainspring of every subversive movement during the nineteenth century; and now at last this band of extraordinary personalities from the underworld of the great cities of Europe and America have gripped the Russian people by the hair of their heads and have become the undisputed masters of that enormous movement.” –Winston Churchill, quoted in London’s Sunday Illustrated Herald appearing February 8th, 1922

- Modern history as true conspiracy. How the Masonic international banking magistrates were directly involved with financing the Russian Revolution in 1917. As a Mason, Churchill knew.

- “You have to choose [as a voter] between trusting to the natural stability of gold and the natural stability of the honesty and intelligence of the members of the Government. And, with due respect for these gentlemen, I advise you, as long as the Capitalist system lasts, to vote for gold.” –George Bernard Shaw
 - Shaw was a deeply committed Fabian Socialist. One of the few thing he said that carried truth.

- “There cannot be stable money within an environment dominated by ideologies hostile to the preservation of economic freedom.” –Philosopher and economist Ludwig von Mises (1881-1973)
 - Another lone voice crying in the wilderness. Private banking is hostile to public interest. But what has been done about it? Nothing. Suppression in the public market place.

- “The governments alone are responsible for the spread of the superstitious awe with which the common man looks upon every bit of paper upon which the treasury or agencies which it controls have printed the magical words legal tender.” –Ludwig von Mises (1881-1973)
 - Implicit Government collusion in the illusion and fraud. It’s all about ‘appearance.’

- “I believe that if the people of this nation fully understood what Congress has done to them over the last 49 years, they would move on Washington; they would not wait for an election.... It adds up to a preconceived plan to destroy the economic and social independence of the United States!”
–George W. Malone, U.S. Senator (Nevada), speaking before Congress, 1957
 - True understanding would lead to change, one would think. The Congress is not serving the people, nor truth, nor posterity, but only themselves and their own private lusts. The virtual incapacity to right a wrong. As Lindbergh said, the day of reckoning is coming quickly.

10. The Federal Reserve: the Greatest Fraud in the History of the World

- “We have, in this country, one of the most corrupt institutions the world has ever known. I refer to the Federal Reserve Board. This evil institution has impoverished the people of the United States and has practically bankrupted our government. It has done this through the corrupt practices of the moneyed vultures who control it.” –Outspoken Fed critic Congressman Louis T. McFadden in 1932; Chairman of the Congressional House Committee on Banking and Currency from 1920 to 1931.
 - Murdered in what year? In 1936. Poisoned in the third assassination attempt. Perhaps one can begin to understand why.

- “Some people think the Federal Reserve Banks are U.S. government institutions. They are not ... they are private credit monopolies which prey upon the people of the U.S. for the benefit of themselves and their foreign and domestic swindlers, and rich and predatory money lenders. The sack of the United States by the Fed is the greatest crime in history. Every effort has been made by the Fed to conceal its powers, but the truth is the Fed has usurped the government. It controls everything here and it controls all our foreign relations. It makes or breaks governments at will.” –Louis T. McFadden, June 10, 1932
 - These couple sentences practically tell the whole story about the conspiracy of central banking

- “The Federal Reserve Bank is nothing but a banking fraud and an unlawful crime against civilization. Why? Because they ‘create’ the money made out of nothing, and our Uncle Sap Government issues their ‘Federal Reserve Notes’ and stamps our Government approval with NO obligation whatever from these Federal Reserve Banks, Individual Banks or National Banks.” –H.L. Birum, Sr., American Mercury, August 1957, p. 43

- Strong words. But tragically not enough social awareness to make a change.

- “There is a vast misconception about the Federal Reserve. The President and the Congress have very little, if any, influence on policy. The Congress handed over all monetary powers to the Fed in 1913. The Fed is a private bank, owned by banks, and pays dividends on its shares owned only by banks. The Fed is a private Bankers’ Bank.” –Professor Antony C. Sutton, The Federal Reserve Conspiracy, 1995, p. 1

- In a speech before the Senate, on December 15, 1987, Senator Jesse Helms said, “The principal instrument of the control over the American economy and money is the Federal Reserve System.”

- In the 1960’s Congressman Wright Patman, a former Chairman of the House Banking Committee said,

- “In the United States we have in effect two governments ... We have the duly constituted Government... Then we have an independent, uncontrolled, and uncoordinated government of the Federal Reserve System, operating the money powers which are reserved to Congress by the Constitution.” –quoted in Hope for the Wicked, Ted Flynn, 2000, p. 223

- “Every circulating Federal Reserve Note represents a one dollar debt to the Federal Reserve System.”

- Money Facts, U.S. House Banking and Currency Committee

- Entirely debt based. The House Banking Committee clearly understands it.

- “Thus, our national circulating medium is now at the mercy of loan transactions of banks, which lend, not money, but promises to supply money they do not possess.” - Irving Fisher, 100% Money

- Ultimately it is all one gigantic Ponzi scheme that now in our generation is set to collapse.

- “The greatest single deception in the United States of America for the last one hundred years has been the disguised truth about the Federal Reserve System. It is not Federal because it is owned by private bankers, and there are no reserves because its wealth is generated by debt or fractional lending.”

- Ted Flynn, Hope of the Wicked, 2000, p. 190

- “The Federal Reserve represents the most massive fraud in the history of the world.” –Dr. Hal Lindsey, The Hal Lindsey Report, May 4, 2012

11. The Federal Reserve and the 1929 Stock Market Crash/Great Depression

• “[The 1929 Stock Market crash] was not accidental. It was a carefully contrived occurrence ... The international bankers sought to bring about a condition of despair here so that they might emerge as rulers of us all.” –Congressman, Louis T. McFadden, Chairman of the House Banking and Currency Committee, 1920-1931, a staunch critic of the Federal Reserve who instigated the stock market crash

• Dr. Milton Friedman was probably the most influential economist of the 21st century. In 1976, he was awarded the Nobel Prize for economics. In a radio interview in 1996, Friedman said,

- “The Federal Reserve definitely caused the Great Depression by contracting the amount of money in circulation by one-third from 1929 to 1933.”

–Quoted from Worldwide Evil and Misery, 2011, p. 67

• Lest we sit here thinking this is nothing more than charged speculation by a Nobel laureate, on November 8, 2002, the Chairman of the Federal Reserve, Ben Bernanke, during a speech in honor of Friedman’s 90th birthday, responded as follows:

- “I would like to say to Milton: Regarding the Great Depression: You’re right, we did it. We’re very sorry. But thanks to you, we won’t do it again.”

–Quoted from Worldwide Evil and Misery, 2011, p. 67

The contraction of the money supply was precisely what the Federal Reserve was supposed to not let happen! The American people were deceived then, and were just recently deceived again in 2008, when the same phenomenon of money contraction occurred by the same infamous Federal Reserve. Not surprisingly, Bernanke lied. In the summer of 2008, the United States experienced what became known as “the American Housing Crisis.” Exactly what triggered the economic crisis that led to real estate devaluations in the trillions of dollars has been endlessly conjectured by the economists. But authors Robin de Ruiter and Fritz Springmeier in their 2011 book, “Worldwide Evil and Misery” tell us something quite fascinating regarding the true cause—and when it started:

- “Thanks to the [Housing] crisis in the United States, the whole world is in an economic crisis since 2009. What is the real cause of the crisis? This credit crisis was caused by a shortage of money [traceable to the Federal Reserve]. On September 11, 2008 (just as in 1929), the powers that be withdrew billions of dollars from circulation. That is what caused the international financial crisis, and nothing else.” –p.68

How so many economic experts can miss such simple realities is truly the great question. By contracting the money supply, the Federal Reserve holds all the cards. Ask yourself why the Federal Reserve was never investigated regarding this economically crushing move.

12. Sobering and Unsettling Facts about the Federal Reserve

• The standard establishment textbooks tell us that the Federal Reserve was set up to protect us from all kinds of bad things occurring in the economic realm, especially the idea that they would work to keep our currency protected from devaluation. But just the opposite has occurred, and not by accident, but rather by design. Look at the value of the dollar from its purchasing value in 1913, just before the Federal Reserve Act was voted upon, and its buying value today. The decline is altogether staggering:

Despite the propaganda that the Federal Reserve has got everything under control and is working to protect our individual and national interests, realize that our dollar is now practically worthless. It is worth a few pennies and falling into oblivion very quickly.

- "Through the actions of the Federal Reserve and the docile cooperation of Congress, America has seen its honest paper money (the finest the world has ever known, fully and readily redeemable in gold), converted into fiat currency redeemable in nothing. Paralleling this crime, Fed-induced inflation has resulted in a depreciation of the dollar's purchasing power by approximately 90 percent. That lost value, plainly and simply, has been stolen from the American people."
-John McManus, Financial Terrorism, 1993, p. 171

• Let us now transition to the even more painful subject of debt-based accrued interest. When the United States Government through the Treasury Department borrows money from the privately owned Federal Reserve, somewhere in the vicinity of 8 percent interest that is compounded per year, every year our Federal budget contains an interest payment back to the Federal Reserve Corporation. Let's have a look at how much money we have paid back beginning with the year 1991 as a representative starting point. The following figure, which comes directly from official U.S. Treasury sources, tells us exactly how much money is handed off to service sum-total loan debts per year:

If we do the math, the total amount of money paid mostly to the Federal Reserve Corporation, a privately held company, over the years 1991 through 2011, is $7.5 trillion dollars! Realize also that the Federal Reserve company does not pay income tax. This is pure profit, the greatest profit of any company in the entire world! Now, it is true that some small fraction of this interest money is paid on loans from other countries (China, for example). This sum amount closely approximates a significant fraction of the entire Gross Domestic Product (GDP) of the United States! (upwards of $15 trillion in 2012). This is what we are paying a private company, which has no absolute accountability to the United States Government!

Because of the in-built structure of debt-based loans, the interest payments to the Federal Reserve only increases with time, especially due to the compound nature of the debt itself. Consider as an example the magnitude of the debt paid in 2011 with respect to other key Government department expenditures:

What this figure indicates is that the magnitude of the debt interest payment in 2011, $454 billion actual versus an early estimate of $414 billion, is larger than the amounts we designate for the Department of Labor, for food stamps, for the Department of Education, for the Department of Agriculture, for the Department of State, for the Department of Veterans Affairs. One can very easily understand that in only a few years' time, the interest payment will exceed all Government operation categories, including Defense and the Entitlement programs. When that happens, most economic experts concede, game over.

- It is estimated that the total amount of money paid in debt interest to the Central Banks of the world is approximately 5 trillion dollars per year (Anthony Migchels; 4 January 2012; www.HenryMakow.com). Think about the magnitude of this number and how these aggregated monies are then used by design to steer and control the trajectory of the total world towards a well-defined New World Order, one planned by the Freemasonic architects who in fact own the Central Banks of the world! Now we can begin to see how this is all coming together.

- In early 2011, the Federal Reserve was finally but partially audited by U.S. Government Accounting Office (GAO). What the audit found staggers the mind:

- "The Federal Reserve Made $16 Trillion in Secret Loans to their Bankster Friends," Michael Snyder, The American Dream; July 25, 2011
- <http://www.infowars.com/the-federal-reserve-made-16-trillion-in-secret-loans-to-their-bankster-friends/>
- "A one-time limited GAO audit of the Federal Reserve that was mandated by the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act has uncovered some eye-popping corruption at the Fed and the mainstream media is barely even covering it. It turns out that the Federal Reserve made $16.1 trillion in secret loans to their bankster friends during the financial crisis... These loans only went to the "too big to fail" banks and to foreign financial institutions. Not a penny of these loans went to small banks or to ordinary Americans. Not only did the banksters get trillions in nearly interest-free loans, but the Fed actually paid them over 600 million dollars to help run the emergency lending program. The GAO investigation revealed some absolutely stunning conflicts of interest, and yet the mainstream media does not even seem interested. Solid evidence of the looting of America has been put right in front of us, and yet hardly anyone wants to talk about it. Many Americans have a hard time grasping just how large 16.1 trillion dollars is. It is an amount of money that is almost inconceivable. It is more than the GDP of the United States for an entire year. It is more than the U.S. government has spent over the last four years combined. The Federal Reserve was just creating gigantic piles of cash out of thin air and throwing them around with wild abandon."
- Few of us can comprehend $16 Trillion being handed out at virtually zero interest to banks and other financial institutes that in reality are actually owned by the same Money Power elite!

- Some thoughts about the current (as of October 2013) federal deficit. Let's have a look at the numbers:

The federal deficit is currently near $17 Trillion dollars. Consider the fact that the Obama administration since 2008, has added $1 Trillion of borrowed debt per year. If the loan interest per year is 8%, this implies that we are adding $80 Billion in compounded debt interest per year. This is an amount beyond staggering, as the interest alone per year exceeds entire Government Department budgets! It's clear we are just about at the cliff of total economic destruction.

13. President John F. Kennedy Dares to Challenge the Federal Reserve Bank

- According to alternative historians, John F. Kennedy and his brother Robert Kennedy ticked off mostly everyone in the One World Money Power system. John F. Kennedy was an extremely intelligent president who, despite certain moral failings, was courageous to the point of asserting his country's interests and the interests of people in general against the most powerful forces in the world.

Besides the many things Kennedy decided to change course on (Vietnam, the CIA, Henry Kissinger, etc.), the big one was the refusal to cooperate with the Federal Reserve Bank any longer. A mere four months prior to his death, John Kennedy openly dared to challenge the supreme hidden authority of the Federal Reserve Bank. Contemporary authors Robin de Reiter and Fritz Springmeier pick up the riveting story:

- "...Kennedy wanted to have his own nation-state money printed instead of prolonging the outstanding loans of compound interest issued by the Federal Reserve Bank. On June 4, 1963, a little-known attempt was made to strip the Federal Reserve Bank of its power to loan money to the government at interest. On that day President John F. Kennedy signed Executive Order 11110 that returned to the U.S. government the power to issue currency, without going through the Federal Reserve.

Kennedy's order gave the Treasury the power 'to issue silver certificates against any silver bullion, silver, or standard silver dollars in the Treasury.' This meant that for every ounce of silver in the U.S. Treasury's vault, the government could introduce new money into circulation. In all, Kennedy brought nearly $4.3 billion dollars in U.S. notes with the inscription of 'United States Note' instead of the usual ‘Federal Reserve Note’ into circulation. With the stroke of a pen, Kennedy was on his way to putting the Federal Reserve Bank out of business. If enough of these silver certificates were to come into circulation they would have eliminated the demand for Federal Reserve Notes. This is because the silver certificates are backed by silver and the Federal Reserve Notes are not backed by anything. Executive Order 11110 could have prevented the national debt from reaching its current level, because it would have given the government the ability to repay its debt without going to the Federal Reserve and being charged interest in order to create its own money backed by silver. Executive Order 11110 gave the U.S. the ability to create its own money backed by silver. With this decision, the printing of the bank notes fell into the hands of the state again. Recently released documents prove that Kennedy had even started printing nation-state money worth $4,292 million dollars! A small amount of this money had been put into circulation during the last days of Kennedy.

The Illuminati focused their attention on John F. Kennedy when they realized he wouldn’t allow himself to be manipulated. On November 22, 1963, Kennedy was murdered ... A couple hours after Kennedy’s death, the new President Lyndon B. Johnson’s first official action in office was ordering the state printing office in Washington D.C. to stop printing anymore Kennedy-appointed state notes and to remove the notes already in circulation. With the assistance of the Federal Reserve System, the circulated money was intercepted from transfer and destroyed. American society and the rest of the world never noticed this. Since then not a single U.S. President has ever risked undermining the power of the Federal Reserve System.”

–Worldwide Evil and Misery, 2011, p. 61-63

This is the primary reason why John Kennedy was assassinated. The global elite Money Power simply could not allow the United States to become untethered to the completely controlling and debt-based Federal Reserve System. Moreover, the assassination of Kennedy was a dire warning to future presidents who might think to eliminate the U.S. debt by bypassing the Federal Reserve’s control over the creation of money.

14. Who Owns The Federal Reserve Bank?

• Let’s step back for a moment and ask the obvious question: who then exactly owns the Federal Reserve Corporation? Christian researcher Ted Flynn in his book, Hope for the Wicked, gives an eye-opening answer:

- “...This has been one of the best-kept secrets on the 20th century, because the Federal Reserve Act of 1913 provided that the names of the owner banks must remain secret. However, R.E. McMaster, publisher of the newsletter The Reaper, asked his Swiss and Saudi Arabian contacts which banks hold controlling stock in the Federal Reserve System. The answer:
 - Rothschild Banks of London and Berlin
 - Lazard Brothers Bank of Paris
 - Israel Moses Seif Banks of Italy
 - Warburg Bank of Hamburg and Amsterdam
 - Lehman Brothers Bank of New York
 - Kuhn, Loeb Bank of New York
 - Chase Manhattan Bank of New York [Rockefeller]
 - Goldman, Sachs Bank of New York” –Hope for the Wicked, 2000, p. 224

• More important than identification of the banks themselves are the people and family dynasties that are behind these banks. Christian researcher Tal Brooke tells us in his book, One World,

- “The following are the international banking aristocracies of the earth, those temple moneychangers who have re-surfaced as international bankers. They include the banking dynasties of Rothschild (in the five pivotal nations of Europe: England, France, Germany, Italy, and Austria), Warburg

(Germany and Holland), Sassoon (cousins of the Rothschilds operating in the Far East), Lazard Freres (France), Mendelsohn (Amsterdam), Israel Moses Seif (Italy), Kuhn Loeb (New York, Schiff), Goldman Sachs (New York), and Lehman Brothers (New York). All but one of the above [Mendelsohn] are among the select ‘primary owners’/class A stockholders of the Federal Reserve Bank of the United States....” –Tal Brooke, One World, 2000, p. 243

• It is interesting to note that the American Rockefellers, Morgans, and Harrimans all got their economic starts by money supplied originally by the European Rothschilds. The Rockefellers have become the American banking dynasty on the international banking block (through Chase Manhattan Bank). These aristocratic banking family dynasties are the shadowed power elite behind the Money Trust, an international banking monopoly, principally led by the Rothschild family. They comprise an interlocking, international banking cartel of wealth beyond comprehension.

15. The Wealth of the World, a New 21st Century Study

- In October of 2011, the University of Zurich, Switzerland published a study that remarkably proved that a small group of companies—mainly banks—wields huge power over the global economy.
 - The Network of Global Corporate Control, http://arxiv.org/PS_cache/arxiv/pdf/1107/1107.5728v2.pdf
 - Anthony Migchels, The Few Banks That Own All, July 25, 2012, www.henrymakow.com
 - Susanne Posel, Swiss Study Shows 147 Technocratic Super Entities Rule the World, Oct 10, 2012, http://blacklistednews.com/?news_id=21945&print=1

The study was the first of its kind to look at all 43,060 transnational corporations and the web of ownership between them. The study was able to create a map of 1,318 “super-connected” companies that are central to the heart of the global economy.

What the study found was that 147 transnational companies formed a ‘super entity’ within this sub-group, controlling 40 percent of the world’s wealth. All of these super entity companies own part or all of one another. This is what we call interlocking ownership. What this means in effect is that this core entity owns all the other biggest 43,000 transnational companies. Perhaps unsurprisingly, the dominant transnational corporations are banks. Closely connected to banks are companies involved with parallel money transaction functions: investment, insurance, and financial services. Of the top fifty transnational corporations, realize that only two were non-financial companies!

Going one level deeper, it was observed that a smaller sub-entity of 737 corporations actually controlled 80 percent of the global economy. This conclusion confirms the idea that a banking power monopoly truly does own the world. This is no longer hyperbole, the Money Power is more real than we imagine, and at the very top of this immense financial pyramid are only a handful of banking family dynasties, led by the Rothschilds, who literally own and control the economy of the world!

16. The Unimaginable Wealth of the Rothschilds

• Until there is some understanding of the historical role of the Rothschild family with respect to the practice of fractional reserve banking and turning debt financing into equity, we will not comprehend how this one family alone has come to dominate the world in terms of wealth. Comments Rothschild biographer Derek Wilson,

- “Those who lampooned or vilified the Rothschilds for their ‘sinister’ influence had a considerable amount of justification for their anger and anxiety. The banking community had always constituted a ‘fifth estate’ whose members were able, by their control of the royal purse strings, to affect important events. But the house of Rothschild was immensely more powerful than any financial empire that ever preceded it. It commanded vast wealth. It was international. It was independent. Royal governments were nervous of it because they could not control it. Popular movements hated it because it was answerable to the people. Constitutionalist resented it because its influence was exercised behind the scenes—secretly.” —Rothschild: The Wealth and Power of a Dynasty, 1988, p. 79, 98-99

• To say that the Rothschilds are merely wealthy is practically an insult. According to Gaylon Ross, senior, author of the book Who’s Who of the Global Elite, he wrote in 1998, after being tipped by a private source that the combined wealth of the Rothschild family was then approximately $100 Trillion. Other researchers have estimated their fortune could very well exceed $100 Trillion (The Federal Reserve Cartel: Part III, by Dean Henderson). If we estimate the fortune and speculate its value in 2013 dollars, using on the average a gain of $5 Trillion per year based on the amount of money the central banks take in per year plus the profits that are made by the great transnational corporations which the Rothschilds mostly own, we arrive at a total fortune near $200 Trillion dollars. Other researchers suggest it could be even higher. Such an amount staggers the imagination. Let’s compare this estimated Rothschild fortune to the 2012 Gross Domestic Product (GDP) of the entire world—i.e., all the nations of the world combined.

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The total global Gross Domestic Product (GDP) for the year 2012 is $72 trillion dollars • Source: the World Bank 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The total Rothschild family fortune is estimated to be near $200 trillion • Some websites indicate this fortune could be as high as $500 trillion • The Rockefeller family fortune is estimated to be only $15 trillion

Based on this data, one could in theory say that the Rothschilds ‘own’ the world. When you have all the riches of the world, what else is there? Well, simply, it is to shape the world according to your dictates. And that, regrettably, is exactly what we see unfolding.

17. The Economic Component in the Drive Towards the Coming New World Order

- As we study the hidden history of modern era Freemasonry, we are introduced to the subject of their plan for a one-world government, described in terms as ‘the New World Order.’ Contemporary Swedish non-establishment historian Juri Lina describes how the world is on a trajectory toward this clearly defined goal. He comments on the recognizable occult plan of the Freemasons:

- “The primary aim of Freemasonry is to build the New World Order, [an occult spiritual society] where non-members are nothing but slaves.”

–Architects of Deception: The Concealed History of Freemasonry, 2004, p. 52

- Certainly one major leg in this Freemasonic worldwide strategy is to control the money, to coordinate a financial monopoly in the hands of a few extremely wealthy men. Elite insider Dr. Carroll Quigley describes this core strategy in very clear-cut terms,

- “The growth of financial capitalism made possible a centralization of world economic control and a use of that power for the direct benefit of financiers and the indirect injury of all other economic groups ... The powers of financial capitalism had [a] far reaching [plan], nothing less than to create a world system of financial control in private hands able to dominate the political system of each country and the economy of the world as a whole.” –Tragedy and Hope, 1966, p. 324

- Christian researcher Ted Flynn in his masterful book, The Hope of the Wicked, reminds his readers that the whole plan revolves around money, and the control of all of its aspects. Money is the central pivot on which this New World Order plan is going to be realized:

- [In the overview of the New World Order] ... Money is the pivot on which it all turns. No money control, no plan. No plan, no implementation. No implementation, no New World Order—One World Government. Following the money provides a bulletproof scenario of just how much of the world’s finance is controlled by very few people.” –2000, p. 191

- Christian researcher Dr. J.R. Church in his book, Guardians of the Grail, describes the same absolute control of the money as being nothing less than a worldwide conspiracy, regardless of the type of governments that exist on the planet:

- “... These banking dynasties had learned that all governments—whether they be totalitarian or democratic—must borrow money in times of emergency, and that by providing such funds from their own private resources (with strings attached) they could bring both kings and democratic leaders under their control... Yes, there is a conspiracy. The international bankers have set about to establish a one-world government and a new one-world monetary system.” –1989, p. 192-193

- Researcher John McManus tells us the New World Order plan involves primary and exclusive control of the economic realm in order to provide total control of the political domain:

- “All the [international banking elite] conspirators want is ... political and economic control of the planet: a New World Order.” –John McManus, Financial Terrorism, 1993, p. 84

- But in actuality the plan and its strategies develop more specifically with respect to what needs to be controlled by the Money Power. Protégé of the powerful Rockefeller banking interests and thoroughly traitorous U.S. Secretary of State, Freemason, well-known Bilderberger, Trilateral Commission member, and Director with the Council on Foreign Relations, Henry Kissinger in the 1970s enlarges on the three central tenants of the plan:

- “If you control the oil, you control entire nations; if you control the food, you control the people; if you control the money, you control the entire world.”

Kissinger, in a candid moment of true revelation, reveals how the plan is moving forward: control the worldwide markets of energy (which is primarily dominated by oil), control the production and distribution of food (today less than 10 companies in American control 80 percent of what they eat; and that includes the wholesale introduction of genetically modified foods), and most importantly, the means by which to ‘manage’ the entire world, control the money. Contemporary historian and New World Order exposé F. William Engdahl has followed Kissinger’s cue implicitly in writing about these three elements of the world control triad. He has written a book about each segment. Each work is indeed both a fascinating read and an extraordinary revelation about the details of each strategy being carried out by the hidden Money Power:

- A Century of War: Anglo-American Oil Politics and the New World Order, 1992
- Seeds of Destruction: The Hidden Agenda of Genetic Manipulation, 2007
- Gods of Money: Wall Street and the Death of the American Century, 2009

• Back in 1921, 33rd degree Scottish Rite Freemason Colonel Edward Mandell House, in conjunction with aid and assistance from Rockefeller money, inaugurated the American Council on Foreign Relations (CFR), a so-called privately controlled think tank dominated by Rockefeller interests that would effectively control U.S. political, economic, and military policy for the years to come. Christian researcher Dr. Stanley Monteith tells us about the foundational aims of the CFR:

- “What is the objective of the Council on Foreign Relations? It is to establish a world government, a world financial system, and a world religion,” all under the control of the international elite bankers. –Totalitarianism and World War III, from the book How to Overcome the Most Frightening Issues You Will Face This Century, Thomas Horn, 2009, p. 70

These three elements—a one world government operating in conjunction with a one-world economic system, combined uniquely with a one-world religion, all under the absolute control of a core banking elite, is the architectural framework of this rapidly approaching and enveloping New World Order. Interestingly enough, this is the very structure that we see exhibited in the book of Revelation, chapter 13. The only thing to add to this understanding is that above this triad worldwide structure will be a one-world leader, an absolute dictator, the man we know to be “the Antichrist.”

• Christian authority and expert Dr. Paul McGuire recently comments how, at the deepest level, the Money Power is really nothing more than an extension of Freemasonry known as the Illuminati executing their well laid out plan of world domination. And, of course, it operates through total global financial control, through an assortment of well-established elite-controlled systems:

- “The Illuminati controls the world’s media through just six corporations which control almost all of our news, entertainment, films, and television. Through a system of interlocking directorates, the Illuminati also controls all global finance through Central Banks, Federal Reserve Banks, the International Monetary Fund (IMF), and the World Bank. This system is also known as the world system and it is setting up the predicted one-world government, one-world economic system, and one-world religion...” –Illuminati Music Videos: Satanism, Crowley and Neurological Warfare, NewsWithViews.com, October 29, 2013

• Dr. John Coleman tells us about the uncloaked moral and spiritual character of the Money Power conspiracy, in driving the world toward the New World Order, and it ain’t pretty:

- “The conspirators are steering the United States on a course leading directly to a feudal system in a New Dark Age under a One World Government of absolute tyranny [i.e., New World Order]. America, not Russia, is leading the world down this fatal pathway that will end in total subjugation of the human spirit and absolute slavery.” –The Conspirators Hierarchy: the Committee of 300, 4th Edition, 2006, p. 242

18. The United States Teetering on the Brink of the Economic Abyss

- If we step back for a moment and just take a look at where we have come from economically in the last 40-plus years, the national debt explosion result looks something like this:

- And although this situation looks progressively more bleak, in reality the situation is even worse. According to talk-show host and nationally recognized internet blogger Dave Hodges in his daily “The Common Sense Show,” the United States is facing the crushing load of three staggering debt numbers:

Total U.S. National Deficit	Total U.S. Unfunded Liabilities (Social Security; other)	Total Derivatives/Futures Debt
• $17 trillion dollars (as of October/2013)	• $238 trillion dollars	• Upwards of $1 quadrillion dollars (a quadrillion is 1,000 trillion)

He says the net result of these ultimately unpayable and staggering sums of debt can end in only one way—a total financial collapse (Source: The CommonSenseShow.com; Three Statistics Which Spell Doom for America, October 14, 2013; also October 29, 2013). At some near-term point in the economic debt shell game, the system will undergo a default trigger and rapid financial collapse will ensue. It is only a matter of when, not if.

19. Another Fearful Aspect of the Economic End-game: The Human Embedded Chip

- The International Banking Money Power, also known and referred to as illuminized Freemasonry, or the Illuminati, are not content with merely having the riches of the world. The ultimate end-game is to use wealth to provide absolute control over the total earth and all its citizens in a Freemasonically conceived New World Order. Another gripping aspect of this global control concerns electronic chips that will be inserted into the human person, whether volitionally or through government mandated coercion. In a Time Magazine article in 1998, the proposal for your money to be attached to an electronic chip embedded within your body was presented in positive terms:

- “In the not too distant future, people can store their money on a chip implanted under their skin.”
–Joshua Cooper Ramo, Time, April 27, 1998

- Since then, the world has hyped up and actively moved forward with progressively more invasive proposals to have people conveniently chipped. Governments have given us plenty of reasons as to why it is of great importance for everyone to be implanted with a chip. But it is all a deceptive ruse. Even ‘Obamacare’ will eventually require that U.S. citizens be embedded with a chip which contains, innocently enough, their sum-total medical records. But the question remains: where exactly is this really going?

- The international banking Money Power, besides everything else presented in this lesson about world control and domination, also has a malevolent plan to get everyone ‘chipped.’ Hollywood director and documentary film maker Aaron Russo stated in 2007, that in personal dialogue with banking mogul Nick Rockefeller, of Rockefeller oil and banking fame, he was told the following about the plan:

- “...The end goal is to get everyone chipped, to control the whole society, to have the bankers and the elite people control the world.” –www.Prison Planet, Paul Joseph Watson, January 29, 2007

- The ultimate end-game of being electronically chipped is something well known to Bible believing Christians. The strategy has been a part of Satan’s long-term plan for monetary control and world domination orchestrated through his Satanically inspired agents:

- “And he [the False Prophet] causes all, the small and the great, and the rich and the poor, and the free men and the slaves, to be given a mark on their right hand, or on their forehead, and he provides that no one should be able to buy or to sell, except the one who has the mark, either the name of the Beast or the number of his name. Here is wisdom. Let him who has understanding calculate the number of the Beast, for the number is that of a man; and his number is 666.”
–Revelation 13:16-18, NASB

20. Summary and Conclusions

- What is it we need to realize in all this? What are the most important conclusions of this lesson? First, the Money Power, or the Money Trust, sometimes called the Money Changers, do indeed rule the world!

- “Make no mistake: It is wealth and money, not governments, that control the world. History has repeatedly shown that governments are easily controlled by those who have the wealth. As Mayer Amschel Rothschild of the famous banking dynasty once said, ‘Give me control of a nation’s money, and I care not who makes the laws.’ This is a very brazen, but unfortunately true, statement.

Controlling wealth is indeed a key tool in manipulating events.” –Charles Gaines, Banking: A Beast Brought to Life, quoted in Demonomics, Terry James, 2011, p. 49

- Most folks are simply not paying attention to the combined encroaching dangers—they have been misled and deceived for a very long time. We might even call it brainwashing, for that is what it is:
 - “Satan’s economic [New World Order] is being shaped before the eyes and ears of all who will pay attention. But, most of the world—even here in America where the free flow of information is unprecedented in history—is paying scant attention to the true nature of unfolding issues and events.” –Terry James, Satan’s Economy, quoted in Demonomics, Terry James, 2011, p. 226
- And why is that? Contemporary historian Dr. John Coleman after 40-plus years of investigation, tells us this about Americans and the core fabric of propagandism that we live under:
 - “The American people are the most trusting, most lied-to, connived, cheated, most regulated people in the world, living in a dense jungle of disinformation and even denser thickets of false propagandism.” – We Fight For Oil, 2008, p. 143
- Fact of the matter, we are daily being lied to about the economy and economic matters virtually all the time:
 - “We live in an era where the ‘big lie’ has come to dominate virtually every sector of modern society—from news to entertainment, to foreign policy and politics, to the economy and healthcare.... Truly we are living in an age of universal deceit.”
–Paul Joseph Watson and Alex Jones, www.infowars.com
- Deception is the very atmosphere we breathe and it is everywhere in every quarter, especially regarding the realm of money and economics. The end-times prophesied that economic deception would become a reality:
 - “In times past, when all else has failed, policy makers have always resorted to policies leading to inflation. Given the lawless and immoral character of the times, we consider it high odds that such an outcome is surely now underway. However, we must be on guard for very deceptive manifestations of inflation that are likely to fool most people. The Bible clearly outlines that a mark of the last days is deception, not only spiritually but also politically and economically. Such conditions play a chief role in fooling and entrapping many people during that prophesied period.”
–Wilfred J. Hahn, Global Financial Apocalypse Prophesied, 2009, p. 277-278

The frightening reality is that we are now beginning to see significant signs of inflation in American financial markets. Multiple economic experts predict that very soon, the preliminary stages of hyper-inflation will begin to take shape and horrifically operate to our collective demise.

- “Don’t Worry—The Government Says that the Inflation you see is just your imagination,” –Michael Snyder, October 30, 2013, <http://theeconomiccollapseblog.com>
- The path toward economic oblivion that is now upon us has not been the result of a series of accidents. It has been an extremely well-planned and long term strategy fueled and driven by fundamental treason. Most Americans do not like hearing that. But the true leaders of our country have noted otherwise:
 - “At what point shall we expect the approach of danger? By what means shall we fortify against it? Shall we expect some transatlantic military giant to step across the ocean and crush us with a single blow? All the armies of Europe, Asia and Africa combined ... could not by force take a drink from the Ohio, or make a track on the Blue Ridge in a trial of a thousand years. At what point then is the approach of danger to be expected? I answer, if it ever reach us, it must spring up amongst us. It cannot come from abroad. If destruction be our lot, we must ourselves be its author and finisher. As a nation of freemen, we must live through all times, or die by suicide.” –a relatively unknown country lawyer from Springfield, Illinois, by the name of Abraham Lincoln, in 1838

- America’s demise and destruction would come from within, not from without.
- “I am concerned for the security of our great nation; not so much because of any threat from without, but because of the insidious forces working from within.” –General Douglas MacArthur
 - Treason by definition comes from within. Treason committed in broad daylight by men we thought we could trust. This has been the testimony of history. It all starts with an inside job.
- The real traitors to America are in our midst, and have been for a very long time:
 - “As I have often stated before, Americans have been misled and brainwashed to believe, that the problems looming over America come from ‘the Russians’ and Communism. This simply is not so. The greatest danger to America comes from the traitors in our midst. Our Constitution warns us to be watchful of the enemy within our gates. The enemies of a free people everywhere are those who serve the Committee of 300 [a synonym for the worldwide Money Power]; who occupy high positions within our governmental structure.”
–Dr. John Coleman, The Conspirators Hierarchy: the Committee of 300, 4th Edition, 2006, p. 109
- For the most part, we are an utterly deceived people when it comes to the basic rudiments of money and a debt-based monetary system. We have naively trusted the Money Power to watch and guard our collective interests—which has resulted in our assured destruction.
 - “Neither paper currency nor deposits have value as commodities. Intrinsically, a ‘dollar’ bill is just a piece of paper, deposits are merely book entries.”
–Modern Money Mechanics Workbook, Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, 1961, p.3
 - Understanding real monetary worth and it’s not in paper. But the fraud has been successfully propagated for many years. This is but one reason to see the dollar drop in real worth. It’s only paper, backed ultimately by ... nothing; nothing more than “the full faith and credit of the United States,” a statement of faith which at one time meant something, but not now under $17 trillion dollars of unpayable debt.

- When most Americans, and that includes Christians, are truly informed about the realities of this perverse and evil economic domain, they usually move toward total skepticism and angry doubt:
 - “When a well packaged web of lies has been sold gradually to the masses over generations, the truth will seem utterly preposterous and its speaker a raving lunatic.” –Dresden James, 1931-2008, English novelist and non-fiction writer

Most folks when they learn the real truths of what is going on here, can hardly believe that it is true. There must be some mistake. Why hasn’t something been done about this? Well, for those who have tried to change the system, assassination has been the typical result.

- Sadly but nonetheless truthfully, we live in an illusion of democracy and economic fairness:
 - “When plunder becomes a way of life for a group of men living together in society, they create for themselves in the course of time, a legal system that authorizes it and a moral code that glorifies it.”
–Frederic Bastiat - (1801-1850) in Economic Sophisms(1845).

- The economic Money Power is plundering the American citizens and its controlled government. There is no adequate control upon the Money Trust—it does what it pleases. We have descended as a people into a condition of pure wretchedness. As Sir Josiah Stamp articulated, “Banking was conceived in iniquity and born in sin.” Those that uphold the plundering of a nation are unscrupulously on the receiving end of its benefits. Reasonable minds see the whole privately owned central banking concept as the worst form of wickedness and fraud. What can we as a people do about it?
- Does anyone in Congress understand how corrupt and perverted this has become?
 - “I have never seen more Senators express discontent with their jobs.... I think the major cause is that, deep down in our hearts, we have been accomplices in doing something terrible and unforgivable to our wonderful country. Deep down in our heart, we know that we have given our children a legacy of bankruptcy. We have defrauded our country to get ourselves elected.”
–Congressman John Danforth (Republican-Missouri)
 - Perhaps a real admission of truth followed by real repentance? Apparently not enough repentance to change the evil that lies before it. Certainly not at the Congressional level. There are some in Congress who clearly see the pyramid scheme in its totality but are powerless to change the brutality of the system.
- “Money is the most important subject intellectual persons can investigate and reflect upon. It is so important that our present civilization may collapse unless it is widely understood and its defects remedied very soon.” –Robert H. Hemphill, former credit manager, Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta, 1935
 - This is one of the most powerful truths of this lesson. We tend to think lightly of money, credit, and a debt-based economic system. Would Christians take it to heart, instead of putting it on the very bottom of topics for social, cultural or historical understanding. Christians nominally pride themselves on true discernment. How can it be that so many Christians have been Masonically “hoodwinked” by the terrible fraud and corruption propagated by the Federal Reserve and the monetary/economic Money Power we find ourselves shackled to?
- “The banks are allowed to create the money out of nothing and charge interest for turning the trick, while the masses have to earn it. The right to create money is the right to leverage, and it’s that financial leverage that hoists them to the top of the pyramid. Without this leverage they would not be able to create such massive amounts of wealth and control. The only way to destroy this system and create fair money is by creating awareness. Once people understand the ‘trick,’ the whole house of cards begins to collapse.”
–Robert Bonomo, activistpost.com; October 13, 2011
 - Most Americans today think the Federal Reserve is a part of the U.S. government.
 - Most Americans today do not understand the mechanics of a debt-based monetary system.
 - Awareness is really all we have in this deadly serious game against the Money Power. But, in all fairness, it doesn’t seem to be enough as the full tide of the New World Order is only a few steps away from complete realization.
- “Without the confidence factor, many believe a paper money system [also known as fiat currency] is liable to collapse eventually.” –Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia, Gold, p. 10
 - This is the world we find ourselves living in—a monetary system that is backed by nothing. And as the value of our currency continues to plunge there will come a point where the confidence factor is destroyed. Our entire monetary system is based on a little more than an arbitrary confidence factor. It was known from the very beginning that a debt-based monetary system would eventually collapse. It really should not as a surprise though we might be told by fraudulent economic experts that this wouldn't happen. The United States dollar system as the World Reserve currency is going to collapse at some near-term point. We are watching the giant vortex of debt-based illusion ultimately suck the world's economy into to a black hole. It is now only a question of how soon.

- “The issue which has swept down the centuries and which will have to be fought sooner or later is: The People versus The Banks.” –Lord Acton, famous British Historian, (1834 – 1902)
 - Most folks do not understand that in the limit, the worst enemy we have to face is the privately owned banking empires and monopolies that have reduced us all to slavery in feudalistic fashion. Debt-based banking is nothing more than absolute tyranny by another name and face. It is all a colossal con-game, an official but masquerading Ponzi scheme, that at some near-term point will come crashing down in total destruction.

- “There is a global meltdown coming. It is global depression. And one world currency and one world financial system is the endgame.” –CNN commentator Glenn Beck, October 10, 2008
 - Glenn Beck is right. A global meltdown is indeed coming, behind which is the planned and prophesied New World Order led by its ultimate ruler, the Antichrist. Get ready...
